

SCALING CARBON MARKET SOLUTIONS – POWERING PROGRESS & GROWTH

Introduction

Part of IETA's annual regional climate summit series, the Latin America Climate Summit \(LACS\) 2026 is the leading gathering of carbon markets practitioners, experts and government across Latin America and the Caribbean. Organised by IETA and hosted by the Secretary of Environment of Nuevo León, this 12th edition will take place 2-4 June 2026 at the TEC de Monterrey in Mexico.

Bringing together around 600 delegates, LACS combines regional leadership with global perspectives, focusing on how emerging emissions trading systems, carbon taxes, international market mechanisms, and innovation-driven infrastructure can enable credible climate action and sustainable economic growth.

As an in-person only event featuring simultaneous translation English and Spanish, LACS offers a unique opportunity to engage directly with policymakers, market developers, investors, communities, and innovators, influencing both regional and global carbon market architecture.
